SELECTED DESIGN PROJECTS

AIGER Kitchen | Individual Project - UX & Interaction Design | 2025 - 2026

- Conducted 20 interviews with middle-income adults aged 55-65, gathered 22 questionnaire responses across a broader age range, and ran simulated central-control usability sessions with 10 participants.
- Used questionnaire findings on forgotten ventilation and repeated safety checks to inform coordinated appliance responses and a readable status overview for a connected-kitchen concept.
- Created an AI-assisted interactive browser prototype with appliance-status controls and simulated alerts, making system responses and user choices visible.

Little Atlas | Individual Project - Berkeley Coursework | 2026

- Designed and built a working travel-memory web prototype with an illustrated globe, journey timeline, postcards and AI-assisted trip planning.
- Revised the place-and-memory model to support multiple visits at one location; connected spatial and chronological views to the same memory records.
- Designed preference inputs and conversational itinerary refinement, keeping generated future plans separate from personal memories.
